The Text :

( 1 ) – Lockdown of 2020 has been a life – changing phase in my life . It was my first time of being in isolation at home . I really needed to channelize the negative energy into something worthwhile , I had to get up and act . So , I went for the first food donation drive and got myself involved in some worthy social work . I began to feel joy by feeding the needy . It was a moment of turning pain into power .

( 2 ) – My mother and I run humble delivery kitchen in Mumbai . We have been serving home-made food for the past 21 years at nominal costs . So , when the lockdown was announced in March 2020 , we naturally shut down the kitchen for a couple of weeks . However , in April , 2020 , we started getting calls from hospitals near our locality asking for food for doctors and nurses on Covid – 19 care duty . A lot of students , bachelors and professionals , started calling us for food . That's when we realized that despite being well-off enough , there were many people who were facing difficulty in finding nutritious food on a daily basis . We were heartbroken to think of the needy who couldn't afford any food or shelter and had not a single meal to eat during the day . Lockdown could be harsh for the unemployed .

( 3 ) – In May , one of our regular customers Abhinav Chaudhary wished to donate money for feeding 100 people . He asked me to find the needy people and feed them . I had posted an appreciation post on my social media handle regarding the first food donation activity during lockdown and soon people started to reach out to help with resources , purely on trust basis . Then we started feeding the needy on daily basis . I continued to post pictures and videos of the food donation drive every week . The message digitally reached people far and wide that situation on-ground was still grim and there were still many in need and facing a humanitarian crisis .
